Web site for a training and support network funded by the AHRC in September 2005 for academics involved in supervision and examination of audio-visual practice based doctorates. It is now primarily an online resource, which aims to support regional initiatives in the UK. The website has 3 main features; Events — current and past AVPhD symposia, exhibitions, and related happenings; Resources — links to organisations, journals, conferences and an archive of papers generated by AVPhD events; and Research Centres — links to academic institutions that offer AVPhD degrees. A researcher database is currently being developed.
